Helpful Definitions

- Housing first: An evidence-based model that provides housing first to people experiencing homelessness before addressing issues like substance abuse or employment.
- Permanent supportive housing: A cost-effective measure for addressing homelessness that provides affordable housing and supportive services without requiring preconditions.
- Low barrier intake center: Point of entry for chronically homeless individuals that provides shelter prior to their transition to permanent housing following the “housing first” model. The goal is to move clients into appropriate permanent housing as quickly as possible.

Housing First Efforts in South Bend

2017: South Bend Working Group on Chronic Homelessness issues recommendations, including adopting a Housing First approach and opening a low-barrier intake center. South Bend Heritage opens Oliver Apartments with 32 permanent supportive housing units in Rum Village neighborhood.

2018: City proposes Low-Barrier Intake Center on S. Michigan near Central Fire Station. After resident feedback, City focuses on decentralizing the geographic locations of homeless services.

2019: South Bend Common Council rejects rezoning for a permanent supportive housing development on the 1500 block of W. Washington Blvd.

2020: Motels 4 Now provides shelter in response to 100+ person homeless tent encampment in South Bend.

2022: South Bend Heritage opens Hope Avenue Homes with 22 permanent supportive housing units in Edison Park neighborhood.

Housing First: A proven model

- Research demonstrates that individuals served in a Housing First model are more likely to remain stably housed than those served through alternative models.
- Once stably housed, individuals are better able to take advantage of wrap-around-services to help support housing stability, employment, and recovery.
- A systematic review of 26 studies found that Housing First programs decreased homelessness by 88% and improved housing stability by 41%, compared to Treatment First programs,
- In 2013, the State of Indiana conducted a study and found that the state would save $1,149 per person by using a housing first and permanent supportive housing model.

Housing First: A proven model

Charlotte-Mecklenburg, NC

- Housing first model reduced Emergency Department visits, arrests, and incarceration events, while increasing use of less costly supportive services.
- After receiving housing, participants experienced a 59% decrease in arrests, a 58% decrease in incarcerations and the average number of Emergency Department visits fell 59%.<sup>2</sup>

Denver, CO

- Housing first model reduced public costs for shelter, criminal justice, health care, emergency room, and behavioral health by $15,000 per year, per person.
- These savings completely offset the cost of supportive housing and saved taxpayers more than $2,000 per person.

Housing First: A proven model

Houston, TX

- Number of homeless individuals in the Houston region cut by 63 percent since 2011.
- Reduced the wait for permanent housing for homeless vets from 720 days to 32 days.

Canada

- Participants spent 73% of their time in stable housing under the housing first model, compared to 32% for those in a traditional approach.

Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing

- A University of Notre Dame study found that a housing first approach used by the VA was effective in reducing the number of homeless veterans.

Frequently Asked Questions: Site Selection

- Why not Ignition Park?
  - Ignition Park is under a Voluntary Remediation Program through the Indiana Department of Environmental Management that prevents residential development on the site.
  - Ignition Park is in close proximity to other service providers. Previous public engagement encourages the de-centralization of the geographic location of homeless services.
- Did you look at other sites?
  - The City and New Day engaged with St. Joseph County elected officials to discuss possible sites for the intake center, including a site on Old Cleveland Road and the Portage Manor site. County officials declined to assist with placement of the facility.

Frequently Asked Questions: Low-Barrier Shelters

- Does low-barrier mean that drug dealers are free to roam the site and it is a free-for-all?
  - No, a low-barrier shelter still has rules and expectations. Sobriety is not a pre-condition to be provided housing, but drug distribution is prohibited and use is strongly discouraged.
- Will sex offenders be allowed to stay at the site?
  - No, this site is located within 1,000 feet of a public park, meaning a sex offender may not reside there.

Frequently Asked Questions: Public Safety

Will the site be fenced and have 24/7 security onsite?

The site will be fenced in its entirety and the City is willing to support a variance to allow for a 10-foot-high fence. The site will have 24/7 security.
